HIGHLIGHTS

Put your creativity to work and gain the skills employers want.

Bellevue University's 100% online graphic design degree is designed to prepare you to apply critical thinking skills to solve problems visually. You will learn to master visual communication, skillfully use industry standard software and hardware tools, and apply the proper production methods in print and/or web design.

A degree can get you the interview. A portfolio can land you the job.

In this Bachelor of Arts in Graphic Design program, you build a portfolio as you go so you graduate with a body of creative work to present in interviews. You'll also become an expert in the widely-used Adobe creative software suite—a must for any designer in today's market.
